The term “session” is used in the beer world to indicate a refreshing and balanced experience that allows you to have multiple beers, within a reasonable timeframe, without overwhelming your senses or reaching inappropriate levels of intoxication. Embracing this philosophy, Session Beer Market is one of Wilmington’s newest pet-friendly bottle shop and growler station.

Located near the intersection of South College Road and 17th Street, Session Beer Market features 8 rotating taps, 6 cooler doors full of individually priced beers, and larger format bottles and six packs to enjoy at home.
